NOTICE

It is pleasure to inform all the students of GGSIP University that the Department of Posts (DoP) is launching in collaboration with the Ministry of Youth Affairs which aims to engage youth for the Dak Chaupal program and provide them with valuable exposure to the functioning of government, postal services, and community engagement activities.

This program is scheduled to commence in the Second week of August targeting graduate and undergraduate youth up to the age of 29 years. Through this program, participation will:

- Experience Postal Services: youth will gain firsthand experience of various postal service understanding their significance and operational processes.
- Learn about the postal system: participation will be exposed to the inner working of the postal system, including administrative processes, service delivery, and customer interaction.
- Engage in Dak Chaupals: Dak chapals serve as a platform to promote central/state/local government schemes and services provided to common citizens, especially in rural and remote areas. The youth can play a crucial role in disseminating information about these schemes in the Dak Chaupals.
- Conduct surveys: participation will also conduct surveys, thereby learning valuable skills in data collection and analysis.

The Students, who wants to avail this opportunity may register through the link <https://mybharat.gov.in>
