Dear Alice,

National Institute of Fashion Technology (NIFT), the premier institutes in the field of fashion education, offers a diverse range of career paths that integrate design, management, and technology. NIFT provides a comprehensive curriculum that ensures students gain both in-depth knowledge in their chosen fields and a holistic understanding of the fashion industry. This interdisciplinary approach equips them with the versatility to pursue various career paths, from design and production to marketing and management.

I am pleased to inform you that, for the first time, NIFT, in collaboration with the Offices of Development Commissioners-Handloom and Handicrafts, Ministry of Textiles is organizing NIFT @ Dilli Haat from September 1st to 15th, 2024. This event will showcase NIFT's unique identity, the work of our students and alumni, and celebrate the myriad craftsmanship of India.

The main objective of NIFT@DilliHaat is to provide insights into what NIFT stands for and to showcase the creative collaboration between NIFT students, alumni, and artisans. The event will feature fashion shows, cultural evenings, artisan workshops and exhibitions, highlighting the Craft Cluster Initiative of NIFT.

I am delighted to extend a heartfelt invitation to you and your students to visit and participate in our event, which promotes design innovation, nurtures creativity, and preserves and promotes traditional crafts of India. The students will witness NIFT's creativity in fashion and crafts and will get a chance to interact with the artisans & alumni. While our alumni, students, and craftsmen will receive encouragement, appreciation and motivation. We believe such interconnections foster invaluable collaborations between Indian youth, contemporary designers, and traditional craftspersons.

Special workshops for the school students will also be organized for hands-on experience in design, creativity, hand skills, and craft creations. These workshops would be conducted on weekdays to allow students to attend the workshops during school hours. On-the-spot registration will be available on a first come first serve basis for these workshops. The event schedule is attached with this letter for your reference.

Your involvement will not only enrich our event but also contribute to the larger goal of fostering design innovation amongst Indian youth as well as preserving India's rich cultural heritage. Together, we can create meaningful connections and opportunities that transcend generations. We believe this event will provide your students to experience life at NIFT and expose them to this career option in future.
