ABOUT US

Inaugurated in 2013, the Indian Institute of Information Technology, Vadodara (IIIT-V), was established by the MHRD, Government of India, as an Institute of National Importance under the Public Private Partnership (PPP) model. Currently operating from its temporary home at the Government Engineering College, Gandhinagar, IIIT-V awaits its permanent campus in Vadodara, Gujarat.

Cerebro, the Annual Technical Festival of IIIT Vadodara, is where innovation meets fun! Organized by the institute's Technical Society, Cerebro brings technophiles together for a celebration of creativity and intellect. This year's hybrid edition promises participation from across the nation, featuring technical workshops, events, talks, exhibitions, and even some literary and gaming fun!

PARTICIPATION

A diverse group of students from various parts of India participate in this technical fest, held in hybrid mode, for inter-college events at Cerebro, hosted by IIIT Vadodara - an Institute of National Importance. The fest is held at a national level and has seen increasing participation over the past four years.
